

Notice inviting expression of interest from Training Partners for Trainings on job roles under AYUSH sub sector

With over 3000 hospitals and 500 colleges dedicated to the proliferation of AYUSH practices, India has emerged as a world leader in this sector of medicine. Multiple wellness parks have been established around the country that stress on the importance of AYUSH practices. These have played a major role in pushing the idea of such medicine into the urban population. Having ancient roots in such practices, the rural population of India has always looked to Ayurvedic home remedies which further strengthens the position of the sector. An almost equal level of penetration in both the rural and urban sectors makes for extremely fruitful returns. The success of such medical practices in India is a tried and tested concept with scope for further growth.
